

Occupational Health & Safety Policy

Management of Meridian 60 Offshore is dedicated to ensuring its employees' health and safety. Our objective is to protect our workers, our property and our customers from injury and illness.

Meridian 60 Offshore, as the employer, is ultimately responsible for worker health and safety at the workplace. I, Andrew Bell, President of Meridian 60 Offshore, am personally committed to taking every reasonable precaution for the protection of all workers and to uphold the requirements under the occupational health and safety legislation. To fulfill this commitment, Meridian 60 Offshore will make every effort to provide and maintain a safe and healthy workplace by implementing an occupational health and safety program, adhering to acceptable industry standards and complying with occupational health and safety legislation. In keeping with occupational health and safety legislation, a healthy and safe workplace will be accomplished in consultation and cooperation with management and employees, in particular, the occupational health and safety committee.

Supervisors will be held accountable for the health and safety of workers under their supervision. Responsibility includes ensuring that machinery and equipment are safe and that workplace practices are in compliance with established legislation, work practices and procedures. Supervisors will also ensure that all reported hazards are mitigated to provide a safe workplace.

Every worker must protect his/her health and safety and the health and safety of other workers by working in compliance with legislation and established workplace practices and procedures.

Contractors will be expected to operate according to legislative requirements using best practices and following Meridian 60 Offshore policies and procedures regarding health and safety.

Health and safety is an integral part of this organization's everyday business. It is in the best interest of all to join together and put into practice health and safety principles in all work activities.
